REVEGO

Design without compromise

Today's homes are more flexible than ever. Whether the kitchen flows into the living room, the dining area doubles as an office or every square foot needs to work harder, REVEGO pocket doors make it all feel effortless. With just a push, you can open up an entire functional space—and just as easily hide it away when it's not in use. It's a smart, seamless way to keep things open when you need them and beautifully tucked away when you don't.

Designed for multifunctional living

REVEGO is a versatile solution designed to elevate every area of the home. Whether you're concealing a coffee bar, tucking away a home office or creating a seamless transition in a living space, REVEGO gives you the freedom to design spaces that appear when needed and disappear when not. No one will guess there's something hiding in plain sight, yet it's all right there, ready when you need it.

With its clean lines, handleless fronts and a wide range of sizes and configurations, it blends effortlessly into any style.

REVEGO is available for door heights ranging from 44.5 inches to 117.3 inches.

Design from a new level with countertop heights

REVEGO, now available in countertop heights, unlocks a whole new layer of design freedom. Imagine a sleek pocket door that opens up an entire beverage station, coffee corner or prep area right at countertop level. This helps keep surfaces clean, clutter hidden and function close at hand. It's an elegant solution that lets you maintain a seamless flow in open spaces, while still delivering moments of surprise and delight.

Freedom to frame around the pocket with any style

The REVEGO pocket is a blank canvas for your creativity. Choose to design around the pocket by matching the surrounding cabinetry, whether framed or frameless, for a seamless look or create contrast for a bold design moment. Inside, the space is yours to define. The doors and surrounding cabinetry can mirror the same aesthetic or introduce something entirely unexpected. REVEGO gives you the freedom to dream big—and then tuck it all away with effortless elegance.

Standardized pocket widths—3.9 inches for REVEGO uno and 5.9 inches for REVEGO duo—streamline planning and make integration with standard cabinetry effortless.

When closed, the REVEGO doors create a seamless face by completely concealing the pocket for a clean, uninterrupted look.

Intentionally and beautifully balanced

By seamlessly concealing entire zones when they're not in use, REVEGO allows every area of the home to stay visually clean and purposefully organized. Whether it's a bar in a living room, workstation in the dining room or pantry in the kitchen, REVEGO gives each function its place—without demanding constant visibility. The result is a home that feels open, intentional and beautifully balanced, no matter how many roles it plays throughout the day.

Open with ease

REVEGO pairs elegant design with the smooth, reliable motion Blum is known for. The fronts open with a gentle push and glide effortlessly into the pocket. When you're ready to close it all back up, the doors return just as smoothly, and close with another press on the front. Design REVEGO with or without handles. It's intuitive, refined and built to perform day after day.

REVEGO uno opens outward like a traditional hinged door, then glides effortlessly into its dedicated pocket.

The double doors slide open and fold inward in a smooth, coordinated motion, disappearing neatly into the side pockets.

REVEGO uno

Simplicity in a single door

The REVEGO uno single door application offers a sleek solution that blends style with functionality. Perfect for smaller openings or areas where a subtle, elegant closure is needed, REVEGO uno slides smoothly into its dedicated pocket, creating a clean, uninterrupted look. Combine the single door application with another REVEGO uno or with the double door application to make every inch count without sacrificing design.

REVEGO duo

A grand reveal for wider spaces

The REVEGO duo application brings double the style and functionality with two doors that slide effortlessly into the same pocket. Ideal for wider openings or spaces that call for a grander reveal, REVEGO duo creates a balanced, symmetrical look while maximizing access and versatility. Whether you're framing a statement bar or a media wall, the dual doors glide smoothly and quietly, offering the same premium motion and seamless integration that define the REVEGO system.

Installation is simplified as the doors and pockets are assembled prior to delivering the product to site.

Plan with precision and install with confidence

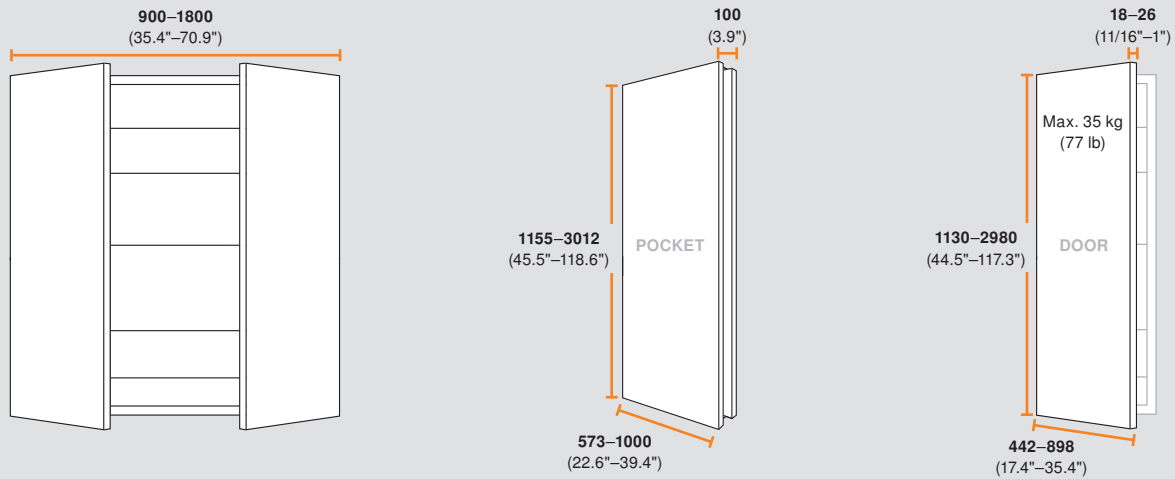

Planning REVEGO is simple and precise with Blum's Product Configurator. Designers can generate a complete parts list and access detailed CAD files to share directly with their fabricator—ensuring accuracy and saving time during the planning phase. All adjustments can be made from the front of the pocket without removing the door, which makes fine-tuning quick and hassle-free. For added support, download Blum's EASY ASSEMBLY App to get step-by-step videos and guidance for a smooth, confident installation every time.
